Congo Leaders Promise to Halt Attacks

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Faced by a stiff warning from U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, President Joseph Kasavubu's government promised today to take steps to halt Congolese army attacks on U.N. personnel.

The pledge was made by Interior Minister Cyrille Adoula. He told a news conference: "We will apply legality if necessary." He did not elaborate.

A woman U.N. staff member was raped by Congolese soldiers near Leopoldville Sunday and the United Nations has reported new incidents of mistreatment by Congolese since then. Tunisian, Malaysian and Nigerian detachments in the U.N. force were the victims.

The newly reported incidents occurred presumably before Hammarskjöld's new warning to Kasavubu, announced at the United Nations Tuesday.

The secretary-general said the United Nations demanded cooperation from Kasavubu and would back up its actions by strong force if cooperation is not forthcoming.

Hammarskjöld also warned Congo leaders to get together "or chaos will result."

Kasavubu's premier, Joseph Ileo, called the news conference to explain the anti-Communist military pact he signed with President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province and Albert Kalonji, chief of the so-called mining state in southern Kasai Province.

Ileo explained again that the pact signers skirted the delicate problem whether all recognize Kasavubu as head of the Congo state. Tshombe and Kalonji declare their areas are independent.

But Ileo asserted "our friends in Katanga are not secessionists. We reached agreement in 45 minutes."

The anti-Communist leaders in signing their pact at Elisabethville offered an olive branch to the Communist-backed rebel regime.

Father of 4 Admits to Hiding Bodies

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Virginia State Police said today itinerant carnival worker Kenneth E. Dudley has admitted disposing of the bodies of his four missing children.

Police said Dudley, 48, and his wife Irene, 44, have told "conflicting stories" as to where the bodies of the four children were disposed.

The Dudleys are being held on charges of causing the death of a daughter, Carol Ann, 7, by malnutrition, exposure and neglect in Virginia. Her body was found Feb. 9 in woods in southern Virginia, wrapped in a tattered blanket.

The Petersburg Progress-Index said today a grave of an unidentified little girl in Prescott, Ariz., may lead investigators to the first of the four missing children.

The newspaper said the Arizona grave may contain the body of a 4-year-old Debbie Dudley.

The body of the unidentified girl was found in a shallow grave just south of Prescott last July 31 by a Las Vegas, Nev., school teacher, Russell Allen.

State police investigator E. M. Lloyd, assigned to the Dudley case, told the Progress-Index "the little girl in the Arizona grave may just be the break we are looking for. Thus far, we have been unable to locate any of the bodies of the children."

Another child, Christine, 2½, was with the Dudleys when they were arrested in North Carolina Feb. 10. Two married daughters of the Dudleys live in a Syracuse, N.Y., suburb. Ten children are known to have been born to the Dudleys.

Police have conducted a widespread search for the four missing children, identified as Norman, now 12; Charles, 10; Claude, 5; and Debbie, 4.

The Progress-Index said Dudley is reported to have told investigators in an oral statement the children died one by one from various ailments and illness as the itinerant carnival worker and his family traveled from coast to coast.

Dudley is in the state penitentiary at Richmond where he was transferred Feb. 19 after a reported suicide attempt in the jail at Lawrenceville, Va., where he and his wife face the charges. His wife

No Economy Uptrend Seen, Says President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today there is not sufficient evidence at hand to indicate an upturn has taken place in the economy.

A reporter told Kennedy at his news conference that some economists have voiced the opinion that "perhaps the recession has reached a rock bottom and that perhaps the economy is on an upturn."

The President replied that he hopes an upturn does take place. But he said the Department of Commerce is releasing statistics "that do not indicate that an upturn is taking place as yet."

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges recently predicted a rise in the economy within the next 60 days.

Kennedy said there still are many hundreds of thousands of Americans dependent upon unemployment compensation and several millions who can't find work.

"Members of Congress and others with whom I have talked report from various sections of the country that they still face a most serious situation," Kennedy said.

"I think it would be premature to make a judgment that our economy is on the rise, and, therefore, that there is no necessity for action. I don't take that view at all."

In view of this situation, Kennedy said, he thinks all of the anticession programs he has recommended to Congress are needed.

"I am hopeful that we will see the economy move up in the spring and summer, but we can make no predictions about it," he went on. "There is not sufficient evidence at hand yet by any government department to indicate an upturn has taken place as of today."

Weight Bill Vote Delayed Until Friday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The House's preoccupation with teacher retirement apparently has delayed until Friday a vote on a controversial truck weight bill.

Union County Rep. Chadd Durrett, floor leader for the Senate bill, said he probably would not ask for a vote until the next Senate day in the House, which will be Friday.

Durrett tried to call up the truck weight bill during the teacher retirement debate Tuesday, but he was unable to do so.

The truck weight bill would increase the weight limit from 64,000 to 73,280 pounds.

Durrett said he feels there are enough votes to pass the bill.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen, who kept the weight bill from coming to a vote last Friday with a filibuster, declined to comment on the possibility that the bill might be defeated.

"But I'll be fighting it to my last breath," Van Dalsen said.

Faubus' Man Thinks Bill Will Pass

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The sponsor of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' teacher retirement bill predicted today that it would pass when it is called up for reconsideration.

Woodruff County Rep. Jack S. Oakes said he probably would ask for another vote Thursday.

Oakes needs to pick up six votes. The Faubus bill got only 45 favorable votes when it was voted on Tuesday after the House had passed an Arkansas Education Association teacher retirement bill 78-14.

The AEA measure now goes to Faubus.

Montgomery County Rep. Ode Maddox, floor leader for the AEA bill and a vigorous opponent of the Faubus plan, predicted his side would be able to beat the Governor's measure again.

The Faubus side could pick up votes from among the 13 representatives who were absent or did not vote on the Faubus bill Tuesday or from among the 41 representatives who voted against it.

Oakes said he felt at least two who voted against the bill would change and that he could get at least four votes from among the list of 13.

Maddox said he felt everyone who voted against the bill would hold firm and that the Faubus side could not gain more than four votes from the absent or not voting group.

Prehistoric Find Revealed in Nevada

By PAUL FINCH

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Archaeologists admitted today they have been secretly working for 18 months on one of the most important prehistoric finds in the history of Nevada.

Three Sparks, Nev., men stumbled into one of the relic-rich caves, forcing officials of the Nevada State Museum and the Desert Research Institute of the University of Nevada to acknowledge the project.

Officials still are keeping secret the exact location of the caves to prevent vandalism.

It is believed, however, the find is at the site of ancient and now dry Lake Winnemucca, part of the defunct Lake Lahontan which once covered most of northwestern Nevada.

The Sparks trio discovered a cave containing a baby's skeleton, wrapped in fibers and animal hide, well-preserved artifacts, and water baskets still capable of holding water.

The trio—Jim and Bob McKinon and Paul Dinn—also found a rare throwing stick about 18 inches long, grooved at the end for holding an arrow or dart point.

Only about 12 of these sticks have been found in the United States and only one other has been found in Nevada. It is estimated more than 2,000 years old.

Richard Shutler Jr., archaeologist of the museum and the Desert Research Institute, said the artifacts of the caves also include a "beautiful chert knife," matting, cordage, shell horns and beads. The beads and shell horns have been traced to California prehistoric dwellers, indicating some trading took place.

Artifacts are the products of primitive art. Chert is impure flint-like material.

The White House followed up with a message to Congress recommending the permanent establishment.

The resident defined the corps as a pool of trained American men and women sent overseas by the U. S. government or by private organizations and institutions to help foreign countries meet their urgent needs for skilled manpower.

Kennedy said the participants will work without pay, live as their foreign counterparts do and speak the native language.

"The initial reactions to the Peace Corps proposal are convincing proof that we have, in this country, an immense reservoir of such men and women— anxious to sacrifice their energies and time and toil to the cause of world peace and human progress," Kennedy's statement said.

Pay Raise Bill Includes State, County Officers

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment to increase salary limits for county officials was amended in the Arkansas House today to include state constitutional officers.

The amendment would set the maximum salary for the governor at $18,000 a year. The Lieutenant Governor could be paid $3,500, the secretary of state, treasurer and auditor $8,000 each, the attorney general $10,000 and the land commissioner $7,500.

The governor now is paid $10,000, the attorney general $6,000 and all other officers $5,000 each.

A proposed constitutional amendment to double the maximum salaries of all state, county and city officials was defeated in last November's general election.

Hempstead County Rep. Talbot Feild introduced the amendment today. Feild is chairman of the House Committee on Constitutional Amendments which has the job of cutting a list of 37 constitutional proposals to five for action by the House. The legislature can put only three proposed amendments on the 1962 general election ballot.

The county officials amendment was written by Conway County Rep. Clay Brazil, who died Feb. 11. Feild declined to say whether the amendment increased the possibility that Brazil's proposal would be recommended by the House committee for a position on the ballot.

The amendment would divide counties into five classes by population and judges and sheriffs would be pegged on a descending scale according to size. The maximum for judges and sheriffs would range from $9,850 to $6,000 and the maximum for other officials from $8,965 to $5,400.

The maximum for all county officials now is $5,000.

The House today passed a bill to permit cities and counties to join together in creation of municipal port authorities.

Pulaski County Rep. Glen Walther explained that the bill was designed primarily to benefit Little Rock, North Little Rock and Pulaski County, but that other cities along the Arkansas River were interested in it.

The bill anticipates navigability of the Arkansas River.

Peace Corps Established by Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today established a temporary Peace Corps of young Americans to be sent overseas, and sent a special message to Congress calling for creation of such a helping-hand agency on a permanent basis.

He announced the move at a news conference and expressed hope 500 persons will be working in foreign countries by the end of the year.

The White House followed up with a message to Congress recommending the permanent establishment.

The resident defined the corps as a pool of trained American men and women sent overseas by the U. S. government or by private organizations and institutions to help foreign countries meet their urgent needs for skilled manpower.

Kennedy said the participants will work without pay, live as their foreign counterparts do and speak the native language.

AEA, Others Apparently Fear Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Woodruff County Rep. Jack S. Oakes charged today that leaders of the Arkansas Education Association are opposing Gov. Orval E. Faubus' proposed $60 million construction bond issue.

"I have been reliably informed that some of the AEA leadership is against this bond issue," Oakes said. AEA leaders said the organization's policy hasn't been determined yet.

Part of the money which would be diverted to retire the bonds would come from funds which otherwise would go to public schools.

Pulaski County Rep. Harry Carter introduced a resolution today calling on various state agencies and institutions which will receive funds under the bond proposal to file statements justifying their respective construction needs.

The House refused to act on the resolution this morning.

Columbia County Rep. Harry B. Colby, House floor leader for the governor's bond proposal, said he would try to pass the bill this afternoon.

The House twice has refused to vote on the measure.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that any bond proposal limited to construction at the University of Arkansas and state-supported colleges wouldn't have a chance of adoption.

"College construction is not a popular issue in this state and cannot stand alone," he told a news conference.

Faubus made his statement at about the same time representative of state colleges met to discuss the governor's $60 million bond issue proposal. Colleges would get 42 million of this, with

Child Slayer Is Heavily Protected

NEW YORK (AP)—An ash-faced and dejected Fred J. Thompson—guarded by swarms of police and subjected to jeering from people on the streets—was held without bail today in the wretched sex slaying of 4-year-old Edith Kicorius.

Thompson, 59, appeared to be happy for the strong guard as he stood silently listening to arraignment proceedings in a courtroom jammed with some 150 spectators.

The appearance before Magistrate Louis S. Wallach took only three minutes.

Thompson, manacled to a detective, had no lawyer and said nothing at any time, even when asked a question by the magistrate.

Then he was led away to a cell. Magistrate Wallach adjourned a hearing in the case until Friday.

Thompson had heard jeers and abuse from people on the streets as he was taken from a station-house to police headquarters for fingerprinting and photographing, and then to the courtroom.

One woman near police headquarters cried out: "There's that dirty dog."

"The sparkling-eyed little victim of one of New York's most savage sex slayings in years vanished while playing on a street last Wednesday."

Her battered body was found Sunday in a room which had been rented by Thompson in lower Manhattan.

He was arrested in New Jersey Tuesday and returned here.

Flood Danger Eases Some in the South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The danger of new flooding in the stricken areas of the South lessened as the Weather Bureau predicted rains today would be less than had been anticipated.

But the floodwaters receding from the hard-hit inland cities posed a threat to areas farther south.

The rains, which moved into Louisiana and Mississippi Monday night and spread across Alabama and Georgia today, were expected to be much lighter than had been originally forecast. The Weather Bureau in Atlanta said the rain would be mostly showers and very light except in north Alabama, north Georgia and Tennessee where it would be moderate.

The new flood danger area extended from Jackson, Miss., across to Bainbridge, Ga. The lowlands around the Mississippi capital city were evacuated Monday night as the crest moved down the Pearl River. An estimated 600 persons may be forced out of their homes at Jackson.

In Alabama, Selma braced for a 57.8-foot crest on the Alabama River which earlier had forced thousands from their homes at Montgomery. An estimated 1,400 persons were being cared for Monday night in Red Cross shelters at Selma.

President Kennedy designated most of the flood-ravaged area as a major disaster area, eligible for federal aid. The Small Business Administration named 15 counties in Alabama, 6 in Mississippi and 2 in Georgia as being eligible for reconstruction or rehabilitation loans.

Three multimillion-dollar public works projects on the Chattahoochee River between Georgia and Alabama were in danger from the flood waters. The U.S. Corps of Engineers prepared to flood the entire 20-acre construction area to save a large coffer dam at the $15-million Columbia (Ala.) dam and lock project.

At Fort Gaines, Ga., minor leaks were reported in a coffer dam surrounding the Walter F. George lock construction site. At Georgetown, the river already had swept away two 30-foot construction bridges and overflowed a small coffer dam at the site of a new highway bridge and railroad trestle under construction.

The death toll has climbed to 33 in the flood area.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Board of Apportionment has denied that it used the wrong mathematical method to reapportion seats in the state House of Representatives.

It submitted exhibits to the state Supreme Court showing how the 25 extra House seats would be distributed under five methods of calculation.

The action was in response to a suit filed Feb. 6 by James O. Stevens of Pine Bluff protesting the Board's distribution of the 25

Faubus Says Board Turned Him Down

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. ORVAL E. Faubus confirmed today that he had suggested Earl E. Evans, former acting president of Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff, for a fiscal officer's job and that the college board had turned him down.

But Faubus said he was merely passing on the thinking of "my fiscal people" and some others interested in the state-supported Negro school.

The board's refusal will not create any rift between him and its members and will not cause him to try to cut down on funds for AM&N or otherwise handicap it, Faubus told newsmen.

He said he thought it would be fine if Dr. Lawrence Davis, AM & N president, and Evans could work together. But if friction is too great, it is probably better than both not be at the school, he said.

Faubus said that early in the current legislative session the board, several southeast Arkansas legislators and Davis met with him to try to get more money for AM&N.

He said his financial advisors knew what a good job Evans had done with fiscal affairs while he was acting president in 1959-60 while Davis was on leave. This was the basis for his letter, he said, adding that he sent copies to Davis, Evans and all interested legislators.

C. E. Larrison of Portland, chairman of the AM&N board, replied to Faubus that the board didn't want to name Evans, saying "we (board members) think this action now would do more harm than good."

Evans now is on leave to do graduate work.

The position of fiscal officer at AM&N would be created under an amendment to an appropriation bill adopted in the Senate last Friday.

No Decision on Dependent Law in La.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said Monday after conferring with officials of Louisiana, Arkansas, and Mississippi that he came to no conclusions about the possibility of changing a controversial ruling by his predecessor on aid to dependent children.

Ribicoff said he wanted to discuss the situation with officials of Oklahoma, Texas and Michigan before arriving at any decision.

At issue is a ruling by former secretary Arthur S. Flemming that effective July 1, 1961, no state would be allowed to participate in the federal program which denied aid to needy children because of the behavior of their parents or other custodians.

The Louisiana legislature in 1960 passed a law providing that a child had to be in a suitable home in order to receive benefits under the federal-state aid to dependent children program.

About 22,000 Louisiana children were removed from the program in 1960 because of the new law.

Flemming's ruling was directed at this state action.

Ribicoff said after the conference that it was a "very complicated problem, very worrisome."

Some of the officials asked Ribicoff to extend the July 1, 1961 deadline or to otherwise modify it.

Carl Adams, Arkansas welfare commission, said his position is that Arkansas is in compliance with the Social Security laws and the issue should be decided on a state by state basis.

His subcommittee also will consider funds for Justice Department and the federal judiciary.

Cuban Cleanup

HAVANA (AP)—Troops surrounding rebels in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba were reported awaiting a signal from Prime Minister Fidel Castro today to begin a cleanup drive on the insurgents.

An unofficial report from a usually reliable source in Cienfuegos said up to 900 rebels have been captured, some in battle and others without a fight. Castro's troops have ringed the mountains in an effort to starve out the rebels, estimated at up to 3,000.

The position of fiscal officer at AM&N would be created under an amendment to an appropriation bill adopted in the Senate last Friday.

Two Men Feared Drowned in River

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—A search party combed flooded lowlands between Camden and Smackover early today for two men feared drowned after they failed to return from a fishing trip on the turbulent Ouachita River.

Ivan Fowler, 34, of Smackover and Julian Hughes, 54, a Ouachita fishing camp operator, were last seen Sunday when their boat put in at a camp near Miller's Bluff.

Searchers said they heard what could have been calls for help along the river near Camden.

A gasoline can which might have come from the boat was found Monday.

Sheriff Grover Linebarrier said the search began Monday when Fowler failed to show up at his job.

The Ouachita, two feet above flood stage in the area, has flooded low-lying lands.

Legislative Change to Be Introduced

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A resolution to change drastically legislative processes in the Arkansas House will be introduced, probably today, by the Rules Committee.

Committee chairman Raymond Mays explained the proposed changes to the House Monday.

If the House approves, the number of committees will be cut from 68 to 24 and the power of these committees over legislation will be increased.

The House seemed generally receptive to the proposed changes.

Under the new rule, each House member would be limited to serving on four committees. Chairmanship and vice chairmanships would be allocated on a seniority basis, as in the U.S. House, and one assigned to a committee, a member would remain on it, working toward the chairmanship as his seniority increased.

The pilot had just veered his stricken ship, loaded with 9,500 gallons of fuel, away from a crowded housing project.

The pilot, Lt. John C. Bibble, 24, Urbana, Ill., and the four other airmen aboard lost their lives.

A housewife, Ruth King, 32, said the four-engine, prop-driven KC97 from nearby Selfridge Air Force base struck "in a great big billow of flame and smoke."

The big pot-bellied ship, crashing moments after takeoff, left a wake of burning wreckage. Pieces hung from overhead power lines and clogged U. S. 25, the highway leading from nearby Detroit.

An Air Force spokesman said the ship was on a routine refueling mission when it apparently suffered a power failure.

Congo Leaders

of leftist Antoine Gizenga. Gizenga was invited to a roundtable conference of Congolese political leaders on the island of Madagascar starting next Monday.

Also invited was Anicet Kashamira, another follower of slain Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba. Kashamira has been running Kivu Province but lately has been reported in jail at Stanleyville.

President Moise Tshombe of secessionist Katanga Province emerged as the dominating figure in the three-way anti-Communist military alliance signed Tuesday in his capital of Elisabethville.

Premier Joseph Ileo represented the central government in Leopoldville. Albert Kalonji signed for the "Mining State" he has proclaimed in southern Kasai.

These moves were announced shortly before U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold sent a letter to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu warning that the United Nations would soon muster sufficient troops to impose a political solution on the Congo if the Congolese did not work one out alone.

"I am sure that you will agree that it would be idle to expect world opinion to accept that things continue as they have been. Either the will manifested by the world community (through the United Nations) will be respected, or chaos will result," Hammarskjold said.

The agreement for military cooperation reached by Kasavubu's government with Tshombe and Kalonji avoided politics by saying that none of the governments formally recognizes the other.

Although the communists said the pact was made to set up "a common bloc against the danger of U. N. trusteeship, Communist tyranny and a Korean-style war," it carefully avoided naming the rebels as specific targets.

How to Keep a Family From Falling Apart

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am 22, have been married three years and have two babies, one 16 months old, the other two months. My husband is 21, good-looking, very likable, a loving father and thoughtful as can be. I've never had any reason to doubt him, but recently his job has taken him half way around the world and back and will continue to do so several times a year for more than a month at a stretch.

I've always disliked a jealous person but now I can't help thinking of all the opportunities my husband has to go with other women. I am nearly out of my mind by the time he gets home. What can I do to keep our family from falling apart? —Nervous Wreck

Dear Nervous Wreck: In my book, the husband comes first and the children second, for the simple reason that if the parents are happy, the children will be too. No husband and wife should ever be separated any length of time. Go with your husband if it is humanly possible.

Dear Helen:

Our daughter will be nine years old in a few months and is having a birthday party. In the past several girls have given her perfume and bubble bath salts. Perhaps we are old-fashioned but my husband and I think she is too young to be using these articles. Other mothers seem to think differently. Would it be wrong to add a note on the invitations asking that such gifts be omitted?

I told our daughter to pass along the word to her friends that she seems too embarrassed to do anything. —E.G.

Dear E. G.: Your little girl is instinctively right. To make a moral issue out of a casual gift is to lose your sense of proportion. And, what is worse, to question the propriety of such a gift is to question the good taste and wisdom of the mothers.

Accept all gifts, including the perfume and bubble bath salts graciously. Unless you approve, your little girl doesn't have to use them; but personally I see nothing wrong in letting her on special occasions.

Dear Helen:

I have a boy friend who is 13 and I am 12. I went to the lake with him, his sister, and my uncle. My mother told me to be the rest to go to the State Hospital, Children's Colony and other institutions.

The public school people expressed fear that Fausbus' bond plan might cut into public school funds, but Fausbus' legislative aide, William J. Smith, said enough revenue is in sight to finance the first 20 million in bonds without endangering public school funds. The rest of the bonds won't be issued unless supporting funds are available, he said.

Fausbus made his comment in reply to a question about whether he expected opposition to his program on grounds that it contains "tricks."

Fausbus said he thought all the proposed expenditures were desirable.

A similar objection was raised at the meeting between representatives of the Arkansas Education Association and other school people with representatives of the colleges.

"The colleges have proved their needs, but how about these other agencies in the omnibus bill," Smith was asked. He said that needs existed for the other agencies.

He specifically cited 500,000 for the state Livestock Show, most of which he said would go to replace a potentially dangerous electrical system.

Pulaski County Rep. Harry Carter, a school employee, suggested that the program be revised to set up a 20 million bond issue for the next two years, with the rest to be worked out later. Smith said that would require a second election.

"The 60 million proposal must be approved at a statewide referendum."

is being held in Lawrenceville.

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — She was known only as Little Miss Nobody.

But she moved authorities and residents of this northern Arizona community as nobody else had in years.

Believed to have been between 4½ and 8 years old, her body was found half buried in a desert area south of Prescott last July 31.

Her body was clad in a pair of white shorts, a checkered blouse and leather sandals cut down from adult size and held to her feet by leather thongs.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation and other law enforcement agencies were unable to identify her.

Nobody claimed the body. Then, on Aug. 10, the saddened community buried her, more than 70 Prescott residents attending the service.

A card on her casket read: "God's little child, date of birth for my leaflet, "Cautious Parents."

8 Students Hurt in Bus-Car Wreck

MORRISON, Ark. (AP) — A car collided with a school bus on a highway shrouded in fog early today.

Eight persons were injured, but only three required hospitalization.

Admitted to a hospital here were Willard Freeman, 16, the driver of the car; Jennette Haggens, 6, daughter of the bus driver, Herbert J. Haggens, 33, and unknown, date of death unknown.

A radio station announcer, Dave Palladin of KYCA, had spearheaded a drive for funds to provide for the burial.

The plea was answered by florists, a mortuary, Prescott residents and citizens from other towns.

Dargyle Cammady, 15. Five other school bus passengers were treated for minor injuries. The school bus was en route to a Negro school near here.

State Police said the car hit a soft shoulder, then veered back onto the highway and collided head-on with the bus.

Soundly Beat

The governor's plan was presented as the best interim proposal while a special committee makes an extensive study of the retirement system during the next two years.

The AEA side made no objection to a study but contended that its plan, envisioned as a permanent retirement system, was equally as valid as an interim proposal.

A two-year study of the retirement system is proposed in duplicate bills pending the Senate and House.

Huffman, the actuary employed by the governor's side, contended the Faubus plan would not damage the retirement system during the interim period but he agreed with Gabriel, the AEA actuary, that the 9.72 plan was more sound for long range purposes.

Both sides agreed that the money in question belongs to teachers. The AEA contended teachers would prefer it be put into retirement; the Faubus side said teachers would rather have it in salaries now.

The Senate is expected to send the AEA bill to Faubus today. He has five days to approve or veto it. The AEA forces have promised an attempt to override a veto, if the governor takes that course.

Overriding action takes only 51 votes.

Faubus declined comment on these developments.

Speeches for and against the bills Tuesday were generally brief. Most speakers prefaced their remarks with brief eulogies of teachers and everyone claimed to have the best interests of teachers at heart.

Sevier County Rep. George W. Davis contended teachers had indicated they preferred the AEA bill. "The teachers have a right to decide how this money should be spent," he declared.

Pulaski County Rep. Harry Carter read results of a poll which showed 11,288 teachers voting for the AEA plan and only 972 for the governor's proposal.

Rep. E. C. Fleeman of Mississippi County praised Faubus as a friend of the teachers and asked the House to keep faith with him.

Ouachita County Rep. David Pryor urged House members to take a stand by voting for one bill and against the other. He said no purpose would be served by passing both bills and letting the governor choose between them.

"The question now is whether this will be a legislative decision or an executive decision," Pryor said. "If the tendency is to let the executive department decide controversial issues prevails, the legislative branch of government is serving no useful purpose."

Many representatives voted for both bills. Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell voted against both.

Also voting against the AEA bill were Reps. Russell Benton of

There was very little in the way of legislation done Tuesday except on the teacher retirement plans.

The Senate met briefly Tuesday afternoon but recessed in order to hear an explanation of the controversial retirement measures.

Earlier the Senate voted to increase the salaries of Education Commissioner Arch Ford and Don Russell, director of the state Vocational Rehabilitation Service.

The $1,200 pay boost would increase Ford's salary from $10,800 to $12,000 and Russell's from $10,000 to $11,200.

But several bills were withdrawn in the Senate Tuesday by their sponsors.

Included in these were measures to:

Permit judges to run for Congress or the U.S. Senate. Currently judges can run for only judicial positions.

Abolish absentee voting, a measure by Sen. Roy Milum of Harrison.

Authorize quorum courts to vote fees for county officers in associations of officials.

Mena, Amity Doing Well in State Tourney

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A last-second field goal shot by Joe Dickinson gave Class B Marmaduke a 68-66 victory over Greenbrier Tuesday and a record-breaking 41 point effort by Class A Nettleton's Jerry Rook set the opening day pace in the prep basketball tournament here.

Mena whipped Mariana 64-46 and England beat Siloam Springs 57-50 in the other Class A games. Nettleton outclassed Ouachita 76-57.

In other Class B games Valley Springs overwhelmed Dyess 99-65 and Oden downed Wilnot 61-40.

Rook's scoring spree broke the 40-point mark he established last year. Tom Davis of Batesville had equalled the old mark Monday night for Batesville.

Nettleton held a six point half-time lead over Ouachita 23-22 but rapidly pulled away in the second half.

Five Valley Springs players hit in the two-figure column led by Johnny Heard with 22 in defeating Dyess. Robert Henson equalled Heard's number in Dyess' losing effort.

Greenbrier opened the tournament by grabbing an early lead over Marmaduke but with six seconds left in the game and the score tied at 66-66, Jerry McIntosh stole the ball. McIntosh passed to Dickinson who swished in the winning basket at the buzzer. A.J. Vangilder led Marmaduke with 20 points. Greenbrier's Lindy Johnston scored 28.

Oden took advantage of several Wilnot fouls with two minutes left in the game to sew up a victory. The game's high scorer was Wilnot's James Skender with 28. He was followed by Leonard Shield's 24 for Wilnot.

A 58-point combined scoring job by Doyle Barks and David Koss over paced England to an easy victory over Siloam Springs 76-50. Barks collected 32 while Koss over got 26.

England was never really pressed and led the game in the third quarter, outscoring Siloam Springs 27-14.

Mena also had an easy game, defeating Mariana by a 18-point margin, 64-46.

Kenneth Lewis was high point man with 25 for Mena while Jack Hughey scored 16 for Mariana.

Today's schedule: (first round) Jessville vs. Parkers Chapel (B); Manila vs. White Hall (A); Mulberry vs. Judsonia (A); Biggers - Reyno vs. Palestine (B); (second round) Amity vs. Kingsland (B); Marshall vs. Batesville (A).

Ortega Wins Fighter of Month Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Gaspar Ortega's nontitle upset victory over welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba last Saturday earned the Mexican "fighter of the month" honors from Ring magazine.

Aggressive Gaspar also regained a berth in the welterweight division's top ten in the monthly Ring ratings released today. Ortega was rated seventh this month. He takes the place of Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., who has grown to a middleweight. Moyer was ranked 10th in the heavier division.

In the light heavyweight class, Harold Johnson, the NBA-recognized champion, was made the No. 1 contender again. Italy's bra of Buffalo, N. Y.

Johan Will Try to Beat Tax Bite

NEW YORK (AP)—Is ex-world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson engaged in a "liberal profession?"

Johansson apparently thinks so, and indications today were that he might use the rule to avoid paying the United States more than a half-million dollars in income taxes.

The government disagrees, and Tuesday took action to tie up Johansson in his third title fight with Floyd Patterson in Miami Beach on March 13.

Johansson's argument is that he is a resident of Switzerland and employed as a business agent for a Swiss corporation called Scanart, S. A.

He says neither he nor Scanart owes taxes because of a covenant between the United States and Switzerland which provides tax exemption for income-producing activities not involving permanent trade or business.

The Internal Revenue Service claims Johansson owes the government $598,181.92 in personal income tax for his two title fights with Patterson here in 1959 and 1960.

In twin court suits Tuesday, here and in Miami, the government obtained orders from two federal judges restraining Johansson from transferring any money outside the country. Hearings are scheduled for March 2 in Miami and March 7 here.

An Internal Revenue Service spokesman explained the "liberal

Rhode Island Gets Bid to Tournament

By HUGH FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Rhode Island, a one-time national basketball power that has suffered through ten lean years, is the latest qualifier for the National Collegiate basketball tournament and the lists for the two big postseason affairs are filling rapidly.

The Rhode Island Rams became the ninth qualifier for the 24-team NCAA tournament when they beat Massachusetts 83-73 Tuesday night and clinched the Yankee Conference championship. That gave them an 8-1 conference record, Maine, 99-80 winner over New Hampshire, finished with 7-3 and perennial champion Connecticut has 6-3.

The 12-team National Invitation Tournament also has nine in the fold and shortly before Rhody's victory received a qualified acceptance from Colorado State University. But since that implied conceding the Skyline Conference title and its automatic NCAA bid to Utah, you'd have to say the tournaments are even.

In other major basketball developments Kansas, ineligible for postseason competition, kept alive its chances of beating out Kansas State for the Big Eight title. Morehead took the Ohio Valley Conference lead and a long step toward a NCAA bid; two NCAA qualifiers, Marquette and St. Joseph's (Pa.) won and NIT-bound Temple was upset by Penn State.

Kansas wallowed last-place Oklahoma 81-56 by controlling the rebounds although tall Wayne Hightower was limited to 10 points—his season low.

Morehead (9-2) clobbered Eastern Kentucky (8-3) 90-73 to break a tie for the Ohio Valley lead. They clash again Saturday. If the result should be reversed, they'd wind up in a three-way tie with Western Kentucky, which has finished its league season at 9-3.

Marquette, recently named for a NCAA at-large berth, just last to beat a stubborn Drake team 74-72 after leading by 17 points with five minutes to go.

St. Joseph's, the Middle Atlantic Conference university division champ, had a 76-74 squeaker against Albright, the northern college division champions. Billy Hoy's last-second basket gave the Hawks their 12th straight victory. Temple, trailing at half time, rallied and the lead changed four times before Earl Huffman put Penn State ahead to stay. Portland strengthened its claim for an NCAA at-large berth by again beating Gonzaga 81-63.

Little Change in Basketball Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Ohio State, just two games away from a perfect season, has turned the voting for the nation's No. 1 college basketball team into a formality. But with the end of St. Bonaventure's amazing string of home court victories, it appears that this week's games will settle the No. 2 spot for the season.

For the 12th consecutive week, Ohio State's Buckeyes were the unanimous choice for first place of the 36-man panel of sports writers and broadcasters who make up the weekly Associated Press poll. They received the maximum of 360 points on the usual basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc.

St. Bonaventure, beaten for the second time in 23 games, barely held second by a five-point margin over Cincinnati (21-3). The 87-77 defeat of the Bonnies by Niagara was a shocker because it happened on their home court at Olean, N. Y., where they had won 99 straight over a span of more than 13 years.

profession" rule as follows:

If a Swiss corporation does business in the United States getting income from labor or services in a liberal profession, and the person providing services is temporarily present in the United States not more than 183 days of the year, and is a bona fide Swiss resident and an employee of the Swiss corporation, then there would be no U. S. tax on the earnings.

The source said, however, he could not clarify the definition of a "liberal profession."

In Palm Beach, Fla., where he is training, Johansson said he had no comment.

William D. Fugazy, president of Feature Sports, Inc., promoter of the fight, said that the action would have no effect on the bout.

Local Independents Beat AFB 118-108

The Spring Hill Independent Basketball Team, in a high scoring bracket, defeated Texarkana Air Force Base Independents on Monday night to the tune of 118-108. Stephenson was high for the local lads with 28 points. Queeny led the losers with 27.

Tonight (Wednesday) the local boys enter the district independent tournament at Prescott, to decide who goes to the state tournament.

Porkers Take on A&M in Final Contest

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks end their Southwest Conference basketball schedule against Texas A&M Thursday night. The game could decide the league finish.

The Hogs and Aggies now are tied for second place behind Texas Tech. The Red Raiders, who fell to Rice earlier this week finish the season against Texas Thursday night and other loss would make the Arkansas-A&M winner a co-champion.

Should Tech vanquish the Longhorns, the clash here would determine second place.

The Porkers suffered a 14-point setback from the Aggies in their first meeting this season. But it could be a different story on the home court.

Both teams, of course, will have eyes on the standings. But only Texas Tech has beaten the Hogs twice this season and the Raiders also are the only team to top the Porkers in Fayetteville.
